RE: Proceeding 16-106 - Protecting the Privacy of Customers of Broadband and Other
Telecommunications Services

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

Your recently proposed new "privacy" regulations to protect consumers from online companies, but what about Google/Former Obama administration employees are exempted. That is foul and absolutely not equal. So much for this lie of a narrative "Net Neutrality".

As you know Google knows more about the voting american citizen than any company in the world. More about our personal shopping habits; what we watch on the Internet; and how we live your lives.

Obviously you take Americans as fools, Chairman Wheeler. Your so-called privacy rules do nothing to secure our privacy when they give a free pass to Google.

This isn't the first time Obama's friends have been given preferred treatment. When you and the unelected board passed the largest government takeover of the Internet in history, Google got a free pass from following those rules, too.

Why are you going out of your way to exempt Google from rules you want everyone else to limit their business with? Could it be because Google and the federal government work so closely on so many projects?

I am aware of regular meetings at the White House of Google staff. Along with hundreds of employees going back and forth as employees between Google and the Obama Administration, including between Google and your FCC!

Americans have noticed and we're disgusted with this violation, co-mingling and conflict of intrests.

Sincerely,
Terry Neumaster
